

Livingston People

Dr. Mitch Chasin, an aesthetic physician and medical director of Reflections in Livingston, recently appeared on CBS News discussing VelaSmooth technology, the latest technology to be approved by the FDA to treat cellulite. This marked his second television appearance in the last few months; he appeared on the WB-11® network in December. Dr. Chasin is considered an innovator in the field and was asked to lend his expertise in discussing his customized treatment approach using VelaSmooth.